

Milton Keynes Museum

Milton Keynes Museum using CMS.]

This was a very interesting project for a number of reasons, firstly everyone involved in the museum is passionate about it, and for good reason. When I first arrived at the museum like a lot of people I new it existed, but thought it was just of old rusty bits of farming equipment. Well I got a huge shock when I was guided through this amazing place. It truly is a treasure of Milton Keynes hence the investment that is about to be put into it.

We worked very closely with Jane Matthews, communications & marketing consultancy and services on the project, and everyone is very excited about the result of our efforts.

The website uses Wordpress as the Content Management System, allowing the museum and Jane to easily update the site.
